

Greetings Karoosters,

No we have not dropped off the edge of the planet....just doing our best to see that the beloved country stays on the rails and is still here at least until we go on pension. We live in interesting times and it is these times which make something different like heading off to the Karoo such a wonderful opportunity to reflect on the greater picture.

I must apologize for not being at BookBedonnerd IX, but it seems that whenever I am on the brink of something really big I suffer a major illness. Before Booktown 10 years ago it was Ophthalmic Shingles. Last October it was a slipped disc in my back and neck which resulted in me being under instruction for lie flat on my back at home notwithstanding the doctors' report which indicated that I really should go under the knife. No, not this boy, I listen to my vet!

I was working on a UNESCO City of Literature for Durban. It doesn't get any bigger than that. On the 16th of June, I submitted Durban's bid to become the first UNESCO City of Literature on the African continent. By the time BookBedonnerd X draws to a close at the end of October, we will get an answer from UNESCO. Read the full article on Litnet by clicking on the following link.

However, this is going to be a big year for Booktown Richmond. Our 10th anniversary. Can you believe it? What a milestone for a small Karoo dorp. If we do get UNESCO status in Durban it will be thanks to Booktown Richmond. It was a town that gave me the freedom to let my imagination roam free.

But don't think for one minute think Richmond has been relegated to a backburner. Our line-up is all but finalised, and once again we have a stellar list of wonderful writers.

Here is an early indication of what's on the Booktown Richmond Hit Parade 2017:

- 1) NAOMI MEYER - WEB

- 2) ERNS GRUNDLING – EL CAMINO
- 3) THOMAS MOLLET – ANNI DEWANI
- 4) MIKE NORRIS – ARTIST ROUND THE BEND

- 17) VERNON HEAD – NEW BOOK 2
- 18) TONY JACKMAN - COOKBOOK
- 19) JULIAN JANSEN – DIE DE ZALZE –MOORDE
- 20) LOUISE HECKL

But it doesn't end here! Oh no, for it is the SA INDEPENDENT PUBLISHERS AWARDS that really have Booktown Richmond beaming with pride. Not only have we attracted the best writers but we are proud to be the only book event countrywide to honour the best of the best amongst self-published books. This is truly a singular event in the Karoo, because self-published books are special. In most cases they represent a writer's life-time obsession. Have a gander of what to expect.

We shall have a gala awards banquet on Thursday October 26 at the Supper Klub.

For all you self-published authors out there- it is not too late. You have until 31 July to enter. Simply contact me on davidd@ukzn.ac.za.

By the time of our next newsletter we will be more or less ready to announce our final line-up. We might just have to host a 4 day festival this year to accommodate our self-published authors. And why not, when you are celebrating 10 years – against all odds I might add!

Over and out
